

MANAGER – OPERATIONS

'At Grofers, we are obsessed with building the future of hyperlocal shopping. We are looking for people who wish to chase this dream with us. If you are someone who wants to work with an awesome team and is passionate about making shopping easier for folks like ourselves, join us and see how we are changing the way logistics is run in India.'

Responsibilities

- Formulating the fulfillment strategy for city operations
- Managing a multi-tier operations team
- Managing the P&L of fulfillment centers
- Ensuring proper collaboration among multiple delivery fulfillment centers
- Ability to hire and manage a distributed team
- Meeting the company's performance expectations and ensuring timely reporting & invoicing

Required Skills

- Understanding of Supply Chain Management
- Proficient in Microsoft Excel
- Good oral and written communication skills
- Enthusiastic, self-motivated and strong ethics
- Decision making ability and a sense of responsibility
- Ability to work in a highly charged environment without compromising on quality
- Comfortable with working long and unpredictable hours

If you are someone who wants to work with a kick-ass team and is passionate about making shopping easier for lazy folks like ourselves, join us and see how we are changing the way logistics is run in India!

If this sounds like something you might be interested in, write in to us at careers@grofers.com